Ranked Choice Voting

The District 15 and District 11 special elections are the first two elections in the Bronx which will incorporate the new voting method of Ranked Choice Voting (RCV). RCV is a voting method whereby voters can, but are not obligated to, rank up to five candidates in order of preference, instead of choosing just one. Note that there can be more than five candidates on the ballot in a race, but only five rankings are possible.

If a candidate receives more than 50 percent of first-choice votes, that candidate is the winner. If no candidate earns more than 50 percent of first-choice votes, then counting will continue in rounds. At the end of each round, the candidate with the fewest votes will be eliminated. If a voter ranked an eliminated candidate first, then the next highest-ranked candidate on the voter’s ballot will be taken into account in the next round of counting. The process continues as such until there are two candidates left. The candidate with the most votes wins.

LAAL Mental Health Initiative

LAAL, the Norwood-based, nonprofit dedicated to supporting women in the Bengali community, is holding a Mental Health Fundraiser to support its Mental Health Initiative. The funds raised will be used to care fully designed assessment surveys of 300 women, using materials accessible in both Bangla and Sylheti. The surveys will be followed up with in-depth, hour-long, qualitative interviews, with the aim of producing data that can be used in future health policy initiatives, prioritizing mental health issues among such marginalized communities.

LAAL Woman’s Support Group

LAAL is launching its newest program, Laal Mohila Shomiti, a women’s support group. Laal’s needs-based assessment in 2019 found that 62 percent of Bangladeshi women surveyed in Norwood spent more than eight hours a day alone. Since the start of the COVID-19 pandemic, social isolation has had an even greater effect on the mental health of women. The aim of the women-only, support group is to allow women to come together and address the problems they are facing, and work through possible solutions, all in a safe space. Laal wants to reassure all women that they are never alone in their struggles, when shared with another person. The group meets monthly, the discussion topics are led by women and vary from overall health, education and housing, to gardening and growing food. The goal is for the group to be a place where women can forge stronger relationships, and have their voices heard, regularly.

LAAL Food Pantry

In February, Laal partnered with NYC’s Test & Trace Program and Dhaka Discount Grocery in Norwood to hold its first food pantry. The group distributed over 60 halal chickens, 1,360 pounds of padma rice, 68 pieces of Bangladesh lao (squad), and more to 34 households. A second food pantry is scheduled for April 8, also at Dhaka Discount Grocery. As Ramadan begins on April 12, the food pantry will focus on providing staple food items during the holy month. It will also be a chance to test & trace for COVID-19, and to sign people up for the COVID-19 vaccine.

Indoor Dning Updates

Indoor Dining in New York City will expand capacity to 50 percent beginning March 19. Currently, New York City (and New Jersey) restaurants are operating at 35 percent capacity, and the rest of New York State is operating at 50 percent capacity. This follows Gov. Andrew Cuomo’s announcement that restaurants outside of New York City will expand to 75 percent capacity beginning March 19.

All restaurants and bars licensed by the SLA must cease all indoor and outdoor dining activities by 11 pm daily.

Bars Inside Establishments: All physical patron bars must be converted to service bars only. That means no seats at bars, and patrons cannot directly order a drink at the bar or be served a drink at the bar. All service is at seated tables.

Outdoor Dining Structures: If more than two sides of an outdoor dining structure are enclosed, it is considered “indoor dining” and the 50% occupancy and related requirements apply.

Table Spacing: Tables are to be spaced 6 feet apart. However, when that is not feasible, they can be closer if approved barriers are placed between the tables.

No Face Mask, No Entry: Businesses cannot allow patrons to enter the establishment, go to or from the bathroom, or stand inside for takeout, if they are not wearing a face covering.

HVAC: Businesses must closely review air circulation and filtration requirements.
